4 / All Means All: A Unified Approach
by Alexa Posny
Former U.S. Assistant Secretary for Special Education examines how we can increase access to equal opportunities for all students to succeed.

10 / A New Paradigm for Inclusion
by Timothy P. Shriver
The Chairman and CEO of Special Olympics writes that building relationships among students with and without disabilities benefits everyone.

14 / Social Inclusion: What It Is and Why It's Important
by David Osher and Terry Pickeral
Social inclusion for students with disabilities builds on steps taken for physically and academically inclusive learning environments.

20 / Project UNIFY: Promoting Social Inclusion Through Sports, Interaction and Education
by Robin C. Parker, Laura Corona, and Andrea Cahn
A look at the importance of extending inclusion to extracurricular activities via this Special Olympics initiative.

28 / Young Athletes: A Special Olympics Motor Skill Development Program
by Paddy C. Favazza and Gary N. Siperstein
How this approach to helping young children with disabilities improves the development of motor skills.

34 / Special Olympics, Sports, and the Path to Social Inclusion for Students with Intellectual Disabilities
by Steven M. Eidelman
How social inclusion lets everyone share common human experiences.

37 / Including Students with Disabilities in School Sports
by David Kysilko
A brief review of federal guidance on inclusion of students with special needs in school sports programs and of Maryland’s efforts to make this happen in schools across the state.

38 / Collaborating in Teacher Preparation to Improve Outcomes for Students with Disabilities
by Sharon P. Robinson
Ideas for state policymakers on how to ensure all teachers can be better prepared to serve all students, including those with special needs, more effectively.

43 / Social Inclusion: A Student Board Member’s Perspective
by Josh Friedman
A student state board member explains the need for improved inclusion initiatives.

45 / The Challenge of Bullying in U.S. Schools: Making Environments Safe For All
by Jo Ann Freiberg
A critical look at what can be done to create safe school climates for all students.

This issue of the State Education Standard was produced with support from Special Olympics.